RE: Letter of Interest – Project Review Committee representing Owners in Higher Education

I am interested in continuing to serve on the Project Review Committee, representing Owners in Higher Education. I have worked at the University of Washington since August 2010 and have managed two of the largest design build projects on campus, as well as several midsize design build and GCCM projects. As the Director of Major Projects within the Project Delivery Group at the University of Washington, my work focuses almost entirely on projects delivered via alternative public works delivery methods. In my role, I have oversight of major projects and supervise Project Managers responsible for managing major projects, which are delivered primarily using design build or GCCM project delivery methods.

In addition to my professional experience, I earned my master's degree in construction management in 2013 and currently teach Design Build Project Management in the graduate program. I also serve as the Vice-Chair for the DBIA Western Washington Chapter Steering Committee and on the DBIA National Core Curriculum Update Committee.

My education and experience, as well as my commitment to ensuring alternative public works are compliant with Revised Code of Washington and executed using best practices to ensure success, make me a strong candidate for this position.
