The 2011 Legislature passed SSB5181 that creates the Washington State Debt Commission. SSB5181 requires this newly formed Debt Commission to report its findings and recommendations to the State Finance Committee, the Senate Ways and Means Committee and the House Capital Budget Committee by December 1, 2011. This contract - along with a similar contract with Professor Wassmer's co-author and collaborator Professor Ron Fisher of Michigan State University - builds on and extends the research, analysis, and modeling work they already delivered to the California Debt and Investment Advisory Commission. Work done pursuant to this contract will address specific questions and issues pertaining to Washington in a cost effective and efficient way so that needed research and analysis can be done in time to meet the legislatively mandated time lines.

Amendment was issued to extend the period of performance, extend some of the deliverable target dates contained in the Engagement letter, and to modify portions of the technical "Agreed upon Procedures." The target date extensions are necessary because more time than anticipated was required to identify all the potential state contract customer names for review and some unexpected complexities were found in the enterprise systems and transaction data which required additional work.

L&I is requesting additional funding to continue with its Lean transformation. These additional funds will allow us to:

- Continue with the Lean transformation as originally outlined in 2009-10 and L&I's strategic plan.
- Accelerate Lean implementation as an enterprise-wide effort providing instruction, guidance, and assistance to all areas of the organization.
- Improve the Electrical Program's ability to enforce the electrical law regarding:
  - o Unlicensed electrical contractors
  - o Uncertified electricians
  - o Failing to obtain an electrical permit/inspection.

These issues are directly related to improving the safety of electrical installations, reducing the negative impacts of the underground economy, and leveling the competitive playing field for legitimate contractors.

- Improve the regions' capability to enforce laws (i.e. improving the amount of the compliance done in the focus areas). Improve the quality and substantiation for every compliance action to ensure that all citations and supporting evidence are valid and accurate 100% of the time.
- Based on the electrical section's success, assign another consultant to another program identified in L&I's strategic plan. This will:
  - Continue the momentum for Lean culture change that has started.
  - Provide faster consulting and training assistance and success at the organizational level.
  - Increase the speed of training throughout the organization with more focus on the management level.
  - Maximize the opportunities for additional efficiencies, savings, and improved service.

Technical Assistance and training is vital to supporting individuals with developmental disabilities to live full and productive lives. Contracted providers, Division of Developmental Disabilities (DDD) staff, and families supporting individuals at home have ongoing needs to increase expertise in their abilities to support individuals with developmental disabilities in the most inclusive, cost effective settings possible. Training and technical assistance activities assist in efforts to support individuals in community settings rather than in much more costly institutional settings.

During the 2011 legislative session, a budget was adopted that required $310 million in fare revenue to be generated for the operating program during the 2011-2013 biennium. The tariff review process is a crucial part of the fare revenue generation to meet legislative direction on fare revenue - determining what percentage to raise what rates, and identify other fare modifications to meet specific policy objectives. The continuing of this agreement for an additional four months is necessary to bring this tariff process to its conclusion.
