Dennis is a registered, licensed Architect in the State of Washington, and principal of a private consulting firm. He offers professional expertise in large-scale, mixed-use development and urban design with special emphasis on transportation and waterfront projects. His professional experience in architecture, planning, and urban design includes nearly 40 years of managing interdisciplinary design and development projects and staffs. His project involvement includes facility design, programming, planning feasibility studies, environmental analyses, site selection, comprehensive land use, and site planning. He has the distinguished honor of being recognized by the AIA College of Fellows for his significant contribution to the profession of architecture and to society. His professional career also includes serving as an assistant professor of Architecture and a guest lecturer at several universities.

Dennis was originally appointed to the Capitol Campus Design Advisory Committee by former Washington State Governor Gary Locke in 2004. His appointment has been extended since his original appointment, and his current term will continue to December 31, 2018. Dennis has previously served the committee as its Chair and Vice Chair during his tenure.
