APPLICATION ADDENDUM FOR CERTIFICATION/RECERTIFICATION OF PUBLIC BODY

RCW 39.10 Alternative Public Works Contracting
General Contractor/Construction Manager (GC/CM)

Under RCW 39.10, the Capital Projects Advisory Review Board (CPARB) is authorized to collect data to assist with evaluation of alternative public works contracting procedures, and public bodies are required to have contract documents that require contractors, subcontractors and designers to submit project information required by CPARB. CPARB has directed the Project Review Committee (PRC) to begin collecting information from public bodies regarding subcontract awards on GC/CM projects as part of the application process for certification/recertification.

Public Bodies requesting to be Certified/Recertified must demonstrate successful management of the GC/CM processes including the ability to meet the requirements of RCW 39.10. Information provided by Public Bodies during the certification process, and responding to the additional question below will allow all public bodies to understand how the limits on GC/CM self-performance is monitored and provide examples or best practices all stakeholders can follow. CPARB recognizes each Public Body has its own method to manage and collect this information and is interested in daylighting and sharing this with GC/CM users through the PRC application process.

As prepared for each GC/CM project, please provide documentation supporting compliance with the limitations on the GC/CM self-performed work.
