Re: Reapplication for the Project Review Committee (PRC) – Specialty/Subcontractor Seat

Dear CPARB's Project Review Committee,

I am submitting this reapplication letter to the Capital Projects Advisory Review Board's recruitment notice, for the Project Review Committee (PRC) Specialty Contractor representative.

I have served on the PRC for the past five years. I have great passion with the duties associated with this position. I am an advocate of the public general contractor / construction manager and design-build contracting procedures as outlined in the RCW 39.10. As a current member of the PRC, it has allowed me to collaborate with like-minded individuals and promote this delivery method for its best intended use for our citizens of the State of Washington.

My near 40 years of construction experience on alternative delivery projects as a contractor, specialty contractor, and as an owner's representative benefits our committee. During my term on the PRC, I contributed to the M/ECCM Review Committee of CPARB to develop 'best practice' recommendations in improving the RCW 39.10.385 language. In January 2015, I received the AGC Education Foundation two-day training certification for the GC/CM: General Contractor/Construction Manager Workshop.
