The purpose is to conduct a review of the Gambling Commission's cost allocation model. This is being conducted at the request of several compacted tribes to ensure that Gambling Commission rates for their regulatory reimbursements are fair and reasonable. The full cost of the contract will be reimbursed by the Tribes through Washington Indian Gaming Association. This work is vital to the agency's revenue as there are large accounts receivable from some tribes that have disputed the billings. These disputes will not be settled until these Tribes have more assurance that the billing rates are fair and reasonable.

The purpose of this Contract is to complete the implementation of the ART Program and Quality Assurance process at the three (3) JRA sites where this has been underway since March 2008 (Maple Lane School, Green Hill, and Naselle Youth Camp). These services are a result of the 2007 Washington State Legislative session where funding was authorized to expand certain Evidence Based Programs (EBP) in JRA. Aggression Replacement Training (ART) was an identified EBP for expansion by the Washington State Institute for Public Policy (WSIPP). These services are critical for the juvenile justice system to meet the Evidence Based Expansion targets to achieve the cost avoidance and associated prison reduction outcome.

The contract is for optional use and the dollar maximum amount represents the maximum capacity allowed. The purpose of this contract is to comply with Federal law 42 CFR 438 requiring HRSA to utilize actuarial firms to develop rates to cover services at six Managed Care Organizations (MCOs) providing managed health care to over 500,000 Medicaid enrollees, and 13 Regional Support Networks (RSNs) providing mental health services for Medicaid clients. This contract allows HRSA to meet federal requirements and ensure that rates paid to the MCOs and RSNs are both cost effective and equitable.

This amendment is to expand existing training capacities to target specific priority provider populations including: providers in rural hospitals, professionals providing services to Medicaid eligible populations and dental/oral health providers. This amendment expands on current work to meet newly identified needs in communities with less resources and higher rates of tobacco use and chronic disease. Fewer tobacco users translate to less spending to treat resulting chronic disease and lower costs to the health care system.

Under RCW 77.36.040, WDFW is legislatively mandated to address conflicts with landowners regarding deer/elk damage to commercial agricultural/horticultural crops. It is also necessary to quickly adjudicate these damage claims, meet with the landowners, and assess respective damage claims during acute periods of damage so WDFW can eliminate losses by the landowner. The purpose of this Contract is for providing professional crop adjuster services for various types of crops at various geographical locations throughout the State.
